Foot Rasps

Most of us love to wear sandals when we're out or walk bare-foot when we're at home. The result of this causes calluses around the heels and rough edges on the sides of our feet. If you have the time, getting regular pedicures once every other week can help. Otherwise, we recommend basic homecare maintenance to keep your feet in shape between pedicure treatments. Get into the habit of scrubbing your feet with a foot rasps. French manicure company, Vitry, has got your answer. This ceramic stone foot rasp, with at least 60 grit, is comfortable, easy-to-use handle, and easy maintenance. A patented model that is available in six colors: lavender, pink, peach, clear, green and blue. For only $25, keep your feet looking fresh and clean.

Fire Island

We're hearing so much about the Hamptons lately, we're beginning to get weary. Sure, there's the polo, the ladies in pastel, and the hordes of over-caffeinated preps in line at the Golden Pear to enjoy. But further west, we wistfully dream, it's a whole different pace. Thankfully Bond No. 9 is channeling Fire Island for its latest scent. It's a fragrance that conjures the 1920s bohemia of this funky retreat with just a whiff of up-market sunscreen. This is a scent that goes beyond private hedges—it's pure, hot beach style.

CARDAMON, gone wild, electrically charged OZON, normally sparkling NEROLI in a languid frame of mind, WHITE MUSK, misbehaving as usual, SKIN MUSK—musk that really knows no limits, TUBEROSE that can't get enough of the musk...so it steams up and stays steamed up, PATCHOULI in its own prancing little sexy, non stop pout. Announcing Bond #9 new summer scent: FIRE ISLAND.

New York's other favorite beach and favorite neighborhood in the summer.

"Pure Sunshine, Scent of Bronzer!" Enjoy the sun with FIRE ISLAND! $178 for the 3.4oz bright yellow and red-capped super star bottle. And $110 for half its size.
